Presidential minutes.....

Hello to all! Thanks to all those who attended the February GM and I hope you enjoyed the FREE spaghetti dinner. A special thanks to Sandy Shepardson and Sandy Smith for their work putting the meal together. During the GM, Joe Allen, President of the Mansfield JC's, announced his candidacy for the office of Regional Director of the South for next year. Elections for this office will be held April 14th at the Region Meeting in Plainville.

Speaking of elections, the Nominations Committee is working to fill the board for next year. If you are interested in a position, let Chris Ienello know NOW.

The State Elections are approaching soon, too. There are currently two candidates running for State President:

Rob McClusky, State Community Development VP, 1989-1990:

Mike Thompson, State Individual Development VP, 1989-1990

I have accepted the position as Rob McClusky's campaign manager for this election. (This was announced to each board member prior to State Boards Feb.11) As told to each board member and to those involved with this campaign, my working on Rob's campaign in no way means that Foxboro automatically votes for Rob. Each member is entitled to his/her opinion and both candidates must "earn" their votes to win this election. Popularity and/or "promises" should not be voted on. Listen to both candidates at our March GM and form YOUR OWN opinion. If anyone is interested in attending the State Boards/Election in May, let me know soon.

In our own chapter, we have alot going on. Because we did not decide until the February GM, notice of a Scat night was not published in the Wise Fox. However, eighteen people attended and played cards, ate, and had alot of laughs. Last group left around 3AM. To top that off, a Sledding party was held March 2nd at my house. This was adults only sledding! You should have been called by your designated board member; I hope many of you could attend on short notice.

Pancake Breakfast, Basketball Clinic, Spouse appreciation Brunch, and New Members BBQ are a few projects underway. I hope some of the Associate Members continue to come around to lend a hand and experience. It's good to see they still care about THEIR chapter. We'll show them appreciation at the Associates Night at the March GM. Hope to see you there.

Welcome back Chris Nametz from his business trips to the Orient! Good to have him back.

Yours in Jaycees,

Glenn

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
MONTHLY REPORT

MARCH

1. Baseball Sponsorship: We have been approached by someone in town to sponsor two kids for baseball this spring. The family in question is a single parent family that is struggling to make ends meet. The two boys will not be able to play baseball without a sponsor. John Zarrella has volunteered to speak to the directors of the baseball league to see if the entry fee can be waived. If it can not be waived, (John believes there will be no problem), the chapter voted last month to sponsor the two boys. John will keep us informed.
2. Sand for Seniors: Sue Kennedy/ Paul Dean
There have been over fifty buckets of sand delivered throughout the town this year so far. Buckets are always needed if anyone knows of a supply. We have a supplier who will charge $.60 ea. This has been a job well down - Keep up the good work Sue and Paul.
3. Pancake Breakfast - Fred Badger
The committee has been meeting regularly to set this annual project up. The tickets have been distributed and are currently being picked up by the CYO league directors. The breakfast is scheduled to run on APRIL 1, 1990 from 7-12:30. WRITE IT IN YOUR CALENDAR!!!
You'll all be getting a call for manpower on this one.
4. Youth Basketball Clinic - John Zarrella
This project will run from March 20th through the middle of April for a total of five weeks. We teach second graders the fundamentals of basketball to help prepare them to play in the CYO league the next year. Anyone wishing to help should contact John - you do not need to know a lot about basketball or be very good at it yourself, we are dealing with second graders so everyone looks good. The clinic runs from 6:30 to 8:00 on Tuesdays at the Burrell School and Thursdays at the Taylor School. This can be a lot of fun....sooooo give John a call.
5. Camp Lincoln Hill Bridge Repair: Pat Washburn
Pat will have all the details on expected expenses for this project at the March GM. He expects that it will only need three or four people to work one day to repair or rebuild the foot bridge inadvertently crushed following a Haunted House Cleanup Party. If you're interested in helping and you know which direction to swing a hammer - give Pat a call.
6. Bandstand Renovations: CHAIRPERSON NEEDED
It has been suggested that we look into any renovations (Painting, etc.) that may need to be done to keep up the bandstand on the common. We are looking for a chairperson and a $15 fact finder for this idea.

MEMBERSHIP NOTES *****

We are holding a follow-up call night on March 7th....Please welcome any new prospective members at the next GM.

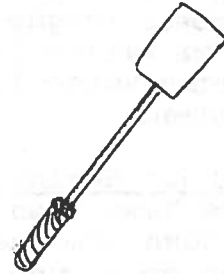

Thanks-

Sandy Smith

Welcome Our
New Members

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT

The New Member's BBQ is scheduled for Saturday, April 7th at Brian & Sandy Smith's home. Many new members have joined since last year's BBQ and a large turnout is expected. This social is your opportunity to meet fellow Jaycees outside the project environment. Look for further information to be presented at the GM.

In keeping with our increased emphasis on socials the project How To Write A CPG will feature a wine tasting. Scheduled for Friday, March 16th at 8 p.m. this project will combine useful information and some fun.

Scat Night at the Shepardson's was attended by eighteen people, all of whom had a good time. Cards, money, and cake were flying everywhere! Thanks Glenn and Sandy.

The Spouse Appreciation Brunch is being chaired by Lauren Seidl and is tentatively planned for April. Watch for further information.

I am looking for someone to chair a fact finder regarding an Arcade Day. The chapter has been offered the use of an arcade for a fee for two hours of unlimited free games. This could be a terrific opportunity for the kids to have a great time.

The March GM is Associates Night. Baked pizza and roasted RFO's will be served!

To Rita Martin, Foxboro's activities include everyone

By Evie Malm

If you happened to tune in to the Human Services/Jaycees auction on cable, the person welcoming you was Rita Martin, auction chairman, strong family person and enthusiastic teacher.

Rita is not new to the auction scene. The first year she served on the general committee. Last year saw her as part of the auction control team while this year she agreed to take on the arduous task of chairman, overseeing the whole event.

The auction is a place where no one comes with an agenda. In Rita's words, it is a "community affair where everyone is helping each other, where people from all parts of the community come together with a common interest."

And as soon as the last item was auctioned, she and the volunteer team were already thinking of ways to make it a bigger and better auction next year. This is a change from the early days when the initial committee worried about having enough items to sell and enough people to sell them. Now the issue becomes making it bigger and involving more members of the community.

And this same excitement for the community extends into her job as a reading teacher at the Parker Middle School in Taunton. Her eyes light up when she talks about children's books and the importance of reading.

Rita has a way of getting her students to read. Every Tuesday and Friday they devote part of the day to book sharing time. Sometimes the students talk about books; often they write in their journals, telling their teacher what they are reading or perhaps commenting on what they thought about their reading. Rita reads the journals and writes personal comments to each student to let them know she cares about what they were doing.

When she wanted a library in the back of her classroom where students could get books, as opposed to waiting every couple of weeks to go to the school library, she and her colleagues organized a book fair for the whole school to raise money and the library became a reality.

Rita also helps the students publish a 14-page school newspaper which comes out four times a year. Unlike a large daily, the newspaper is not backed by advertisements and still manages to have a 10 cent newsstand price.

With the Valentine's Day issue, the students will be allowed to run ads at 50 cents an ad to advertise a message to a friend in the spirit of St. Valentine's Day. Profits from the paper are used for a field trip to the Brockton Enterprise newspaper plant where the children have a chance to see a large daily in operation.

"It's important to show enthusiasm," she says. "Have books around. Read to the children. Read to the children every day."

She also urges parents to have a wide variety of reading materials around so the child doesn't just think of a book as a "hard covered, dark colored book with pages in between."

On the home front Rita's husband Jack supports her in all her activities. He too, takes an active part in the community, having served on the Advisory Board and recently completed his work on the Growth Policy Committee. Jack also, in addition to being involved in family activities, is active in their church and was one of the original committee members to look into cable access when it was in its initial stages.

Their daughter, Karen, a sophomore at Foxboro High School, also volunteered at the auction. A good weekend or vacation time might find the whole family — including David, a senior at Xavarian; and Kathy, a senior at the University of Connecticut — enjoying a hike, or camping at Mt. Kathadin in northern Maine. As members of the Appalachian Mountain Club, they have enjoyed spending time hiking in the Rockies and have placed on the agenda a possible trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains in the South.

And what is it that makes Foxboro different?

"I think it is a tone," she says. "All things are possible. No matter what the issue, people don't look at the negative but rather say 'let's see if we can do it.'"

Rita welcomes the "What do you mean we can't do it?" attitude that prevails and causes people to "move out and try."

And to newcomers in the community, Rita advises Foxboro does not fit the "closed and cold" perception of New England towns. It is a place that "offers so many avenues to express individuality and interest." She says anyone new should check out the newspaper or school cable or Newcomers Club for it is a community "where no one is excluded."

Ways & Means

The Pancake breakfast planning continues and Jane Webster is chairing the Placemats project. If you have any reason to advertize give her a call.

The Founders Day Barbecue is in dire need of a chairman. Trust me when I say it is an easy project to chair. We need to start planning soon. The event will happen in 3 short months.

As part of Founders Day we have glow items remaining from Halloween to be sold. All that needs to be done for this project is to sell the product. Give me a call if you are interested.

Jaycees grab state honors at convention

Foxboro Jaycees are riding the crest of a wave, and a successful one at that.

At a state Jaycees convention held in Marlboro earlier this month, Foxboro was named the top chapter in Massachusetts. Rankings are based on a point system recognizing service projects in various areas of community involvement.

Specifically, Foxboro Jaycees were honored in the following categories:

- Karen Mordaunt (Community Fundraising) - For her work on the October "Concert on the Common" to benefit the Kennedy-Donovan Center for handicapped children.

- Sandy Smith (Recruitment and Orientation) - For the local membership drive which netted 27 new members.

- Glenn Shepardson (Presidential Award of Honor) - Given to the top three chapter presidents in the state.

- Sandy Shepardson (Spouse of the Quarter) - Given to the spouse, not necessarily a Jaycees member, most supportive of her husband's involvement in the organization.

Foxboro Jaycees are currently running neck-and-neck with the Mansfield chapter for the state's No. 1 chapter at year's end. President Glenn Shepardson said this will be decided prior to the organization's national convention in June.

Foxboro just might scoop Mansfield's Jaycee title

A competition between two local Jaycees chapters vying for bragging rights just might give the traditional Foxboro/Mansfield gridiron rivalry an entirely new twist.

These two chapters, located literally on each other's doorstep, are among the most successful in the entire state. And now, Foxboro is mounting a bid to challenge Mansfield's long-standing supremacy.

"Mansfield has dominated first-place for quite a few years now," said Foxboro Jaycee president Glenn Shepardson, who joined the organization three years ago. "But we've got a lot going for us."

They sure do. It's been a good year for the Foxboro Jaycees. Last month, a local couple — Tim and Sue Kennedy — was named Massachusetts Jaycee "family of the year," and will take part in the national convention in Kentucky this June.

And at a statewide Jaycee convention held last weekend in Marlboro, the Foxboro chapter was named the top local group in Massachusetts — a feat Shepardson termed "history making."

"Historically, Foxboro wouldn't even get into the top 10," Shepardson admitted sheepishly.

Ranking is decided on the basis of points accumulated in various areas of fund-raising and community involvement, and local chapters are judged on their performance in those areas.

Last weekend, Foxboro members Karen Mor-daunt and Sandra Smith, and Shepardson's wife, Sandy, all were recognized for their role in specific service projects. Shepardson himself was honored with a "presidential award of honor," given to the top three presidents in the state.

The award, he conceded, sounds much more prestigious than it is.

Why the sudden turn-around? Shepardson contended the 30-year-old Foxboro chapter always has been involved in its share of community projects, but was less than diligent about completing the necessary paperwork needed to get recognition.

"Let's just say that wasn't always our strongest suit," he said.

No more. Now Shepardson personally compiles reports, documents projects and verifies the needs of those individuals and groups who benefit from the Jaycees' help.

Some local projects — such as the annual pancake breakfast held each April (last year they served 1,200 people), the cable television auction and the Founders Day cookout — have become so well-established residents often forget the Jaycees are involved. Others are strictly one-shot deals — such as a November 1986 benefit basketball game held for Steve Brightman, a Foxboro police officer suffering terminal cancer.

Shepardson's personal favorite from the past year was "Concert on the Common," billed as a '50s-style rock n' roll party for all ages. The event was conceived to raise funds for the Kennedy-Donovan Center for handicapped children, which has a facility located in Foxboro. Unfortunately, a cold October drizzle put a damper on the turnout — but not on the enthusiasm of youths from the Kennedy center who attended the festivities.

"It wasn't a large project but it was for a great cause," Shepardson said. "Some of the kids from the school were there and it was really rewarding to see where our money was going."

Just as rewarding was this year's Halloween haunted house, long the pet project of Mansfield

Jaycees. Mansfield had lost its former location at that town's Spaulding School, so the event was moved to the grounds of the former Foxboro State Hospital and was staged jointly by the two local chapters.

It was a remarkable success. People waited outside in line literally for hours to be led through the chamber of horrors.

But even then, Shepardson was thinking about membership, or more accurately, how to increase it. Without new blood and fresh ideas a chapter goes stale. But with the rising cost-of-living and demands of two wage-earner families, fewer and fewer people have the time or energy for another commitment.

"We try not to overload people and offer them the chance to put in what they can," he said. "You can offer either one hour a month or 50 hours a month. I think people like that flexibility."

Shepardson himself puts in about 20 hours every week. But with the current level of enthusiasm and Foxboro finally getting its share of recognition, he admitted it's been a heck of a lot more fun.

"It's just a good thing I've got an understanding wife," he said.

Incidental Motions

Motions of this group have few general characteristics in common, but for convenience have been grouped into one class. The name, "incidental," has been chosen because they arise only incidentally out of the business of the assembly.

See pages 10 and 11 for a Chart of Precedence of Motions and a Summary of Rules Governing Them.

PROGRESS OF MOTIONS

1. A member rises and addresses the presiding officer.

The presiding officer should be addressed by title, as "Mr. President." If the specific title is not known, it is always correct to use the term "Mr. (or Madame) Chairman."

2. The member is recognized by the presiding officer.

The chairman recognized a member by his name, "Mr. Member" or by a nod to him. Having thus received formal recognition from the chairman, a member is said to "have the floor" and is the only member entitled to present or discuss a motion.

3. The member proposes a motion.

A motion is always introduced in the form, "I move that" followed by a statement of the proposal. This is the only correct phraseology. Aside from very brief explanatory remarks, it is not permissible to discuss the merits of a motion either prior to, or immediately following, the formal proposal of the motion. All discussion must wait until after the chairman has stated the motion to the assembly and has called for discussion.

4. Another member seconds the motion.

Another member, without rising or addressing the chairman, may say "I second the motion." Seconding a motion is merely an indication that the member seconding it wishes the matter to come before the assembly for consideration. If no one seconds the motion, the chairman may ask, "Is there a second to the motion." If there is none, he may declare, "The motion is lost for want of a second."

5. The presiding officer states the motion to the assembly.

When a motion has been properly proposed and seconded, the chairman repeats the motion to the assembly, or "states the motion." After it has been formally stated to the assembly, it may be spoken of as a "question," or a "measure."

6. The assembly discusses or debates the motion.

After the motion has been formally stated by the chairman, any member has a right to discuss it. He must obtain the floor in the same manner as when presenting a motion. Normally the first person who asks recognition is entitled to speak, but when several members wish to speak or present motions at the same time, certain guiding principles should determine the decision of the chairman:

- a. The chairman should always show preference to the proposer of the motion.
 - b. A member who has not spoken has prior claim over one who has already discussed the question, or who has proposed another motion.
 - c. If the chairman knows the opinions of the various members regarding the measure before the house, he should alternate between those favoring the measure and those opposing it.
 - d. The chairman should recognize a member who seldom speaks in preference to one who frequently claims the attention of the assembly.
- DISCUSSION MUST BE CONFINED TO THE QUESTION THAT IS "BEFORE THE HOUSE."

7. The presiding officer takes the vote on the motion.

When all members who desire to discuss the question have done so, the chairman "puts the motion to a vote." He may, before taking the vote, inquire, "Is there any further discussion?" or "Are you ready for the question?" If no one rises, the chairman presumes discussion is closed. He will proceed to take the vote by announcing, "All in favor of the motion (STATE THE MOTION) say 'Aye'." Following response from the assembly, the chairman then says, "Those opposed say 'No'." If the chairman cannot determine from the volume of voices which way the majority has voted, he says:

"The chair is in doubt. Those in favor of the motion please rise." After counting, he says: "Be seated. Those opposed, rise. Be seated." Another alternative is to simply call for a show of hands. Certain motions may be voted on by ballot.

8. The presiding officer announces the result of the vote.

The chairman formally announces the result of the vote, saying: "The motion is carried; therefore (STATE THE INTENT OF THE MOTION)." If a majority vote in the negative, "The motion is lost." As soon as the vote has been announced by the chairman, another motion is in order.

HOW MAY A MOTION BE AMENDED?

The purpose of the motion TO AMEND is to modify a motion that has already been presented in such a manner that it will be more satisfactory to the members.

Methods of Amending:

By addition or insertion

To add something to the motion which it did not contain.

By elimination or by striking out

To subtract or eliminate something from a motion that was originally a part of it.

By substitution

This method is a combination of the first two methods, since in amending by substitution something is stricken out and something inserted in its place. The substituted portion may consist of a word, a phrase, a clause, or an entirely new motion.

The most important principle to understand in connection with any form of the motion TO AMEND is that an amendment "MAY BE HOSTILE, BUT IT MUST BE GERMANE."

By "hostile" is meant opposed to the spirit and aim at the motion to which it is applied.

By "germane" is meant having direct bearing upon the subject matter or the motion; that is, relevant, or relating to it.

An amendment may be opposed to the actual intent of the original motion and, in fact, nullify it, but if it relates to the same subject matter, it is germane.

HOW TO HANDLE AMENDMENTS

Types of Amendments:

Amendment of the First Rank

An amendment to a motion.

Amendment of the Second Rank

An amendment to the amendment. (The amendment to the amendment must modify and relate directly to the amendment and NOT to the main motion, otherwise it is OUT OF ORDER.)

NO AMENDMENT BEYOND THAT OF SECOND RANK IS POSSIBLE. It is never in order to propose more than one amendment of each rank at one time. If one desires to amend two separate and unrelated parts of a motion, this must be done by two amendments of the first rank, and one must be voted upon before the other is proposed. It is possible, however, to have a motion, one amendment to the motion (amendment of the first rank), and one amendment to the amendment (amendment of the second rank) before the assembly at once. Until the amendment of the second rank has been voted upon, no other amendment of the second rank is in order. Until the amendment of the first rank has been voted upon, no other amendment of the first rank can be proposed.

Order of Voting:

Amendments are voted upon in inverse order; that is, the one of second rank is disposed of first.

1. Discussion is held and the vote taken upon the amendment to the amendment (amendment of second rank).

2. Discussion is called for and the vote is taken upon the amendment to the motion (amendment of first rank).

3. When the vote on this has been taken, discussion upon the original or main motion as amended is open and when completed a vote is taken upon it.

NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS

A nomination is the formal presentation to the assembly of the name of a candidate for the office to be filled.

Cable auction featured in 'how-to' book

By Pamela Braman

With only three years under its belt, the annual Foxboro cable auction is being featured in a book outlining ways non-profit organizations can successfully use cable television.

Author Margie Nicholson, formerly a cable television administrator in Chicago, said Foxboro Cable Access' coverage of the benefit auction is a remarkable use of cable technology for a non-profit organization.

"In the calls I've made to about 40 access corporations throughout the country, I've only seen maybe one other example of such an auction, in California, and I don't know how successful it was," Nicholson said in a phone interview last week.

The auction, held Jan. 21 at the Ahern School, was sponsored by Foxboro Human Services and the Foxboro Jaycees, and netted almost $10,000 for the benefit of FHS and the Foxboro Discretionary Fund. It is the third year that the auction has been held, and was broadcast live over the local cable channel to several surrounding towns.

Nicholson said the time-consuming planning and preparation put into the production by its sponsors was in itself noteworthy. But she said Foxboro is fortunate in being able to raise funds via its local access channel. Many towns have provisions against using their station to raise any funds, she said.

Nicholson said she decided to use the Foxboro auction as a chapter in her book after starting to make calls around the country last fall, searching for good case-studies to highlight. As part of an ongoing search to raise funds, non-profit groups need to learn effective ways of utilizing today's media technology, she said.

"When I heard about Foxboro's auction, I thought it would be an ideal example of what non-profits can do," she said. "In your town, the auction is not only a main event, but it actually raises money."

Nicholson's book, now in its second draft, will be published by the Benton Foundation in Washington D.C., hopefully in the spring. After publication, it will be distributed at low cost to non-profit organizations and cable access companies throughout the country.

Presidential minutes

As I write this, I am still peeling pancake batter off my shoes. A very busy day today feeding more than 1,500 patrons at our Pancake Breakfast. A lot of good compliments given about the breakfast. (Some not so good compliments, too and I'm sure those people will be more than willing to be on the committee next year "to do this instead; and do that instead") Volunteers?

Only four weeks remain to this 1989-1990 fiscal year. We have enjoyed a busy and active year this year. But, it's not over yet. Still coming up is the New Members BBQ, Spouse Appreciation brunch, Easter Egg Hunt, Mother's + Father's Day Essays, Founder's Day, Foxboro JC's 30th anniversary (chaired by RFO members of our chapter), and the Installation Banquet on May 4th. I hope you all plan to attend the banquet for good food, music and dancing, and year end awards.

Keep in mind that April 11th at the 6m we will be electing new officers. Come show your support for all the candidates. Come for a good time!

Yours in Jayces,

Glen

Ways + Means

Placemats- My thanks to Jane Webster for chairing this project. I think everyone would agree that the placemats were very impressive. Good job!

Founder's Day BBQ - John Seidl has had to back out from chairing this project. It seems as though a small problem has gotten in the way. John and Lauren are moving to Minneapolis. Best of luck! Pat Washburn has volunteered to chair this project. He will be looking for a committee so if you have the time please sign up.

Glow Items - Tom Sawron is chairing this project which will take place on Founder's Day night. He may be looking for a few people to help him sell these items.

Haunted House - It may seem a bit early but we need to begin planning this years event. If anyone would like to chair this project give me a call or see me at April's E.M.

FRED BADGER
WAYS + MEANS VP

As I said at the February GM when I announced my candidacy for President, I have enjoyed meeting many new people this year and working with everyone.

We have had a very successful year this past year. We have done a lot for the town of Foxboro, the residents of Foxboro and for ourselves as well. I would like to see that continue next year. I want us to spend some of the money we have. It doesn't belong in the bank, it belongs in the town. With your help and support we can make it happen.

I look for the opportunity to serve as President. Again I'm asking you for your commitment and your support, but more importantly, I'm asking you for your vote.

Thank You,

Fred Badger

Best show in town

It is with a certain nostalgia that we welcome once again the annual Jaycees pancake breakfast this Sunday.

Traditionally, the popular event marked the unofficial start of the campaign season in Foxboro, with would-be office holders making their first awkward attempts at pressing the flesh in anticipation of town elections in early May. For a candidate to miss the pancake breakfast was a bad omen indeed, and over the years, many endured miserable weather lest they get off on the wrong foot.

In 1990, local politics seems to have taken a back seat to other, more pressing, issues. The challengers are few and the interest level seems to be at an all-time ebb.

But that's no reason to skip the breakfast. With or without any real or imagined political activity to get excited about, the Jaycees fundraiser is still the best show in town.

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT

Preparations for the Installation Banquet are being finalized under the direction of Sandy Shepardson. Be sure to return your R.S.V.P. promptly. There will be dinner and dancing. Judging by the initial response this will be a well attended function.

Volleyball continues to run every Monday evening at the Igo building at 7pm. Come join in the fun and get a little exercise in the bargain.

The Wine Tasting/How to Write a CPG project ran well with 17 people in attendance. President Glenn led the group in a discussion of the finer points of CPG writing while Sue Kennedy educated us about wines. It is fair to say that both received equal attention. I don't have to say which was enjoyed more! Thanks Glenn and Sue.

The New Members BBQ has 30 people expressing interest so far with many more expected as the date grows near. The date is Saturday, April 7th at 7:30 pm at Brian and Snady Smith's house.

Lauren Seidl has announced a location for this year's Spouse Appreciation Brunch. We will be going to Jimmy's Pub in Mansfield and April 22. Look for an ad elsewhere in this Fox.

JC Shirts are available from John Zarella. T-shirts, golf shirts, and jackets are offered. Emblazoned with the Jaycee emblem, these items identify you as a Jaycee and lend visibility to the projects we run. Give John a call or see him at the April GM.

TIM KENNEDY FOR PRESIDENT 1990/91

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT VICE-PRESIDENT 1989-1990
COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT VICE-PRESIDENT 1988-1989
SECRETARY 1987-1988
MEMBER SINCE 1983

It is through chairing a project, whether successful or not, that we are given the opportunity for personal growth. Insight into the organization of a project can also lead to new project ideas. I believe it is the responsibility of the area Vice-Presidents to recruit others to chair projects. With the recent growth in our membership this responsibility has become even more important. It is not enough to recruit new members; we must provide ample opportunity for involvement to activate all of our members. Following our recent growth in membership we are poised for a significant increase in our positive impact on our community.

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT 1989-1990

I would like to thank the chairpersons of this year's Individual Development projects for their efforts. Your willingness to step forward and organize these events provides members the personal growth and enjoyment that make it possible to give to the community in so many other areas. My sincere thanks to you all.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT - MARCH REPORT

Sand for Seniors: (Kennedy/Dean) There were a total of 50 buckets of sand delivered this past season. Sue and Paul will be asking for volunteers at the next GM to help pick the buckets up. People will be asked to pick up five each to make light work for everyone.

Pancake Breakfast: (Badger) The breakfast is set to run on April 1st which will have come by the time this is published. To date (3/28/90) we have sold 1560 tickets amounting to approximately $4700. Now thats a lot of pancakes!

Youth Baseball Donation: This concerns the donation approved at the Febuary GM of $55 to a family in town that could not afford to enlist their two boys in the Youth Baseball Program. The family spent money they really didn't have and paid the fee. Once paid, our plea to the Program to let these children play wit out paying was turned down. According to the motion approved at the GM, we will reimburse the family for the fee. Perhaps we should keep this in mind when the Youth Baseball Program asks for their customary $175 donation in the spring.

Youth Basketball Clinic: (Zarella) The program started on March 21 and will run into April. John reports that there are more kids involved this year than in the past and that he is receiving help from seven non-Jaycees that may become candidates to join. Anyone interested in helping out should talk to John.

Easter Egg Hunt: (K. Badger) This is set to run on April 7th from 12-2pm on the common in conjunction with the Jaycee Women's Bunny-on-the-Common. Wrapped candy was purchased and will be hidden on the common.

Camp Lincoln Hill Bridge Repair: (Washburn) Pat reports that he has estimates ready for approval at the next GM. Mansfield has offered to pay for half of the cost since the damage occurred during the Haunted House Party. Approximate cost $150 ($75ea). Anyone interested in helping on a Saturday coming up should talk to Pat.

Bandstand Repair: (P. Dean) Paul volunteered to research what needs to be done to upkeep the Common's Bandstand for this year's Founder's Day Celebration. The theme this year is "The Common" so it is appropriate that we spruce the place up a little. Paul will be reporting back soon with details.

Dugouts - Booth Playground: (Chairman Needed) Once again this subject has been raised as a good project to "give" the town. We have worked hard and have money available to do something like this now. Anyone interested should see me and we can see about getting this going again.

Benches - Burrell School: (Chairman needed) This is another revived idea. With the new field being placed at the school, the need for benches has once again become evident. Anyone intereste again, should see me.

THAT'S IT FOR THIS MONTH AND THIS YEAR.....It's been fun,educating and at times (with membership) very busy but always rewarding. Thanks for all the help.

Sincerely,

Judy Smith

COUNTDOWN TO FOUNDERS DAY

The theme for Founders Day is a Celebration of the Foxboro Common. The Common as we know it today was laid out in 1857 by the Sylvanian Association, a private group which cleaned up the area in the center of town and then planted trees, laid walkways and erected the cast iron fencing along the perimeter. What better way to celebrate the Common than to congregate there to enjoy the morning activities on Saturday, June 9.

Of course, one of the topics of discussion on Saturday will be the previous night's "Founders Day Kick-Off Dance" held at the Lakeview Pavilion. On Friday, June 8 from 7 p.m. to midnight there will be cocktails, a buffet dinner and dancing to the music of Nick Michaels & Company. Tickets are $25 per couple. Arrangements can be made for reserved tables. Tickets may be obtained by sending a check made out to the "Foxboro Historical Society/Founders Day," P.O. Box 450, Foxboro, MA 02035. The tickets will be mailed or delivered to you.

Tickets will also be on sale at the Jaycee Pancake Breakfast on Sunday, April 1 at the Foxboro High School Cafeteria. For more information about the dance, please call Gerry Brady at 543-1200.

In addition to the dance tickets, Planning Committee members will be selling T-shirts and sweatshirts with this year's logo, the Foxboro Common. Both the T-shirts and sweatshirts come in three colors, gray, white and mint. The sizes are: children's T-shirts are $5 and adults are $6. Children's sweatshirts are $9 and adults are $12.

We would like you to know that the Founders Day Fireworks Fund has grown to $2,000 in donations! Thank you to everyone who has contributed so far. If you would like to make a donation, please send your check made payable to "Foxboro Historical Society/Founders Day" P.O. Box 450, Foxboro, MA 02035 or drop your donation in the Wishing Wells set up in the banks in the center of town.

The next meeting of the Planning Committee will be held on Tuesday, April 3 at 7 p.m. at Memorial Hall. The meetings are open to the public.

For more information about Founders Day, please call Carl Kusch at 543-8155 or Ginny Coppola at 543-9243.

Foxboro prepares for Founders Day

At 5 p.m., the Jaycees will hold a chicken wagon parade which will begin at 4 p.m. The Jaycees will also be the site of a 7 p.m. band concert featuring the Stone Street Strummers. Coppola said the Founders Day Committee has raised $2,000 toward the $6,000 cost of the display in about a month's time and will accept donations to the Foxboro Historical Society/Founders Day, P.O. Box 450, Foxboro. She said the committee needs more volunteers. The next meeting will be on April 3 at 7 p.m. at Memorial Hall.

on sale April 1 at the annual Jaycees pancake breakfast. Saturday's festivities will begin with a pancake breakfast at 7:30 a.m., followed by the parade at 10. Welcoming speeches will begin at 11. Activities on the common will include arts and crafts sales and a reunion of graduates of Foxboro High School. Coppola said a singing festival combining several of the town's church choral groups is tentatively scheduled for the afternoon. One of this year's new activities will be a fireman's muster to be held at the Foxboro Co. parking lot at noon. Coppola said the activities on the common are expected to wind down at about 3 p.m. The celebration will continue at the Booth Play-ground, where the annual doll carriage and

FINAL PRESIDENTIAL MINUTES.....

We have just completed a very active year in the Foxboro Jaycees and a new year is about to begin.

I would like to take this time to express my sincere gratitude to those who served on my board and to the general membership entirely. We have seen some changes and new opportunities over the past twelve months and it has been fun for me and my family to serve as your chapter president.

When I decided to get our chapter involved with the state this year, not many people were too enthusiastic. But I could see that the resources available would help our chapter grow strong and be more recognized in our community. That is what we are all about, community service. This year we ran over 75 projects, doubled our regular members membership, and made many new friends while having fun. We have shown that being involved with the state does not hurt our efforts, but it does increase our awareness of the State and National Organization and it's purpose. Our chapter has written over one dozen CPG's (Chairmans Planning Guides) so that when these projects are run again, we have organized documentation on how to run this project successfully and not scrambling from a file folder of miscellaneous notes. Writing CPG's, competing for region and state awards help in our own personal lives, too. It teaches us skills to plan and implement a goal. We have all learned this year that we need to work together in order to make this chapter run smoothly. We must keep looking for new ideas and assess our own chapter, community, and personal goals. Service to humanity IS the best work of life.

I bid you farewell as chapter president and ask you to continue your support and dedication to the new board and to President Kennedy (doesn't that sound familiar?) over the next year. Together, you can all make a difference.

Yours in Jaycees,

INDIVIDUAL DEVELOPMENT

The installation banquet is scheduled for May 4 with cocktails beginning at 6:30pm and dinner to follow at 7pm. Sandy Shepardson has scheduled a D.J. for dancing following the ceremony. Looking forward to seeing all of you there.

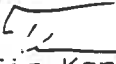

Volleyball has had another successful year and will soon be breaking for the summer months. Hope those involved each Monday evening have had a good year. See you in the fall.

Once again another successful New Members BBQ thanks to the work of Sandy and Brian Smith. A large number of new members were present and a good time had by all. Great job Brian and Sandy.

The spouse appreciation brunch was held Sunday April 22nd and was attended by 10 members. Good food and great company. Thank-you Lauren Seidl.

Jaycee shirt sales are in progress. T-shirts are available through John Zarella and orders can be placed for golf shirts.

1990-1991 will be the 30th anniversary of the founding of the chapter. Jerry Norwood and Tim Sullivan are chairing this project. Expect to hear more at a later date.

WAYS AND MEANS

- 1) Founders Day Barbecue-P. Washburn
The first committee meeting was held on 4/17/90.
Because of the late start, the next month is going to be very busy planning this event. Founders Day is 6/9/90 (rain date 6/10/90)
- 2) Glow Items Sale-T. Sawran
Sale will be held on Founders Day. Tom may ask for some people to help him.
- 3) Haunted House-C. Ienello
We need to start thinking about this event early!!!!

I would like to thank everyone for making Ways and Means successful this past year. Although there weren't many projects, most required substantial planning and were beneficial to the chapter.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
APRIL REPORT

YOUTH BASKETBALL- John Zarrella did a fabulous job with the project once again. The last day was April 26th and from every thing I've heard, it couldn't have run smoother.

SAND FOR SENIORS - Sue and Paul will be making calls for help in picking up the sand buckets to have them ready for next year. This project has run over a period of several months and Sue and Paul have done a great job considering they delivered so many more buckets this year than have been requested in past years.

CAMP LINCOLN HILL FENCE - Pat Washburn will be bringing details to the next GM concerning this project. He has visited the site and estimated the cost to the Chapter.

BANDSTAND REPAIR - This committee will meet for the first time on May 2nd. Paul Dean, I'm sure, will still take anyone's help who wishes to get involved. They will report back to the Chapter on what finances will be needed to spruce the place up. Some painting and minor repairs to the ceiling are in order along with a decision as to whether or not to tackle a new roof which is badly needed.

PARADE FLOAT - Fred Badger has volunteered to create this year's Founders Day Float. He hopes to build a replica of the bandstand to go with this year's theme of "The Common".

DUGOUTS/BENCHES II- Tom Sawran has taken up this cause. For now, he plans on tackling the benches for the Burrell School Fields, both the old and the new field. He also plans on running Phase II of the project later in the season which might include some fencing needed and/or bleaches for the new field. He will have lots of details and will be asking for help at the next GM. He's done quite a bit of the leg work on this one all ready.

MOTHER'S DAY ESSAYS - Gordon Snow has this under way. Letters have been sent to the third grade classes and Gordon expects to be reading essays soon. We will again be giving two children from each of the two elementary schools, a twenty-five dollar prize for the best essay.

FATHER'S DAY ESSAYS- Mark Moore will be planning this contest as the date comes closer.

SCHOLARSHIPS - Sandy Smith. We have met (four newer members and myself) and chosen our top ten choices for receiving the Jaycee Scholarships this year. The GM voted to give two $500 scholarships this year. We chose our candidates first based on need and then on community involvement.

Well, last month I thought I was signing off for the year but I had the chance to write one more report. I feel good leaving this area with such promising projects coming up this spring. It's also great to see some of the new or newer members becoming involved running projects. THANKS AGAIN TO EVERYONE FOR ALL THE HELP THROUGHOUT THIS YEAR.

Sandy Smith

Foxboro Jaycees keep up with a brisk business at annual pancake breakfast

Nearly 1,500 hungry patrons had the right idea Sunday morning, skipping the home cooking and flocking instead to the annual Jaycees pancake breakfast.

According to Jaycees member Fred Badger the 2,015 tickets sold and the 1,450 meals served were records for the popular fundraiser. Badger said the event grossed $5,988. Of this, he added, approximately $4,000 would be turned over to the town's CYO basketball program.

Bleary-eyed work crews arrived as early as 6 a.m. at the high school cafeteria, to fire up the grills and make sure everything was organized.

Doors opened at 7:30 a.m., and numbers at the cafeteria quickly began to swell. At one point, said

Jaycee member John Zarrella, crowds were lined up 30 feet deep in an outside hallway waiting for a seat.

Jaycee members, helped by Jaycee women, would-be basketball stars and other youthful volunteers worked feverishly to keep up the pace. Youngsters waited on tables, refilled orange juice and milk cups and cleaned up afterwards.

"I'd guess we served probably 200 more meals than we've ever served before," Badger said. "It got pretty hectic for a while."

Before the last stuffed stragglers left the high school at about 12:30 p.m., Jaycees had used 310 pounds of pancake batter, 400 pounds of sausage, 47 gallons of orange juice, 22 pounds of coffee and some 600 half-pints of milk.

Foxboro batter a hit for CYO basketball

The last bite

Cory Shepardson, 8, and his mother Sandra breakfasts at the Jaycee-sponsored event to finally get a chance to eat their pancakes at raise money for the local CYO basketball team. Foxboro High School Sunday afternoon after' Organizers hailed the turnout as one of the they helped create or serve an estimated 1,450 biggest in the event's 16-year history.

FOXBORO — Approximately 310 pounds of pancake batter, 400 pounds of sausage, 47 gallons of orange juice, 22 pounds of coffee and 600 half-pint cartons of milk were gone before the 16th annual Jaycees pancake breakfast stopped serving at noon Sunday.

The high school cafeteria was filled to capacity with pancake fans, eagerly toting pancake and sausage-laden plates back to their seats to benefit the CYO Youth Basketball Program.

Jaycees, Jaycee women, CYO basketball players and other volunteers worked behind the counter turning out pancakes by the thousands to accommodate the never-ending sea of hungry faces that traveled through the line.

At one point, volunteers were sent on an emergency mission to replenish depleted supplies.

"We probably served maybe 200 more meals than we have in the past," said Jaycee member Fred Badger.

Badger said 2,015 tickets were sold for the event and that approximately 1,450 meals were served.

"It cuts the cost for each child in half," said Jaycee member John Zarrella. "Every dollar and profit goes to offset the cost of the program."

Badger estimated that of the $5,988 raised from the event, after all of the expenses have been paid, the Jaycees should be able to turn over $4,000 to the CYO basketball program.

Badger said that in the past, there would be a peak busy period for the breakfast that would last approximately 1-1½ hours, but that this year they had a streak that kept them all working straight through a 2½-hour period.

"It's a lot of work, but it's like a social event for the Jaycees," said Badger, explaining that the members enjoy holding the breakfast.

Badger said that the day began at 6 a.m. for some of the members, who came in early to fire up the grills and get the coffee brewing.

Zarella said some of the work had to be started on Friday and Saturday in order to have everything ready on time.

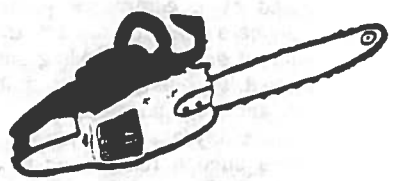

Badger said the event is organized by a committee within the Jaycees that coordinates the different aspects of holding such an event, such as publicity, manpower and food and supplies.

The Jaycees did a human services auction fund-raiser in January and also took part in the haunted house fund-raiser to benefit Wrentham State School.

OOPING IT UP — The annual Jaycees Basketball Clinic for second graders once again proved popular with local youngsters. Giving Derek Vren a little help with his game is Clem Burns. Jaycee John Zarella serves as clinic director.
