— DECEMBER 1991 —

Foxboro Jaycees is a member of the United States Jaycees Organization.

THE FRED FACTOR

As we begin this holiday season let me remind everyone that we are in the midst of the last major fund raising project for the year with the Christmas Tree Sale. I hope everyone will show their support and come out and help us sell trees. I'm told they're as good as they usually are. (P.S. Any Jaycee buying a tree elsewhere could be in the running for a Frog.)

December also means other holiday related projects and socials. December 7 is a family social at the LaSalette Shrine. December 14 Santa Claus will be on the Common and the Progressive Dinner will be that night. If you haven't been to one in the past, I urge you to attend. It is a real good time. The following week, Santa Claus will be making his annual calls to the kids. He may ask for some help if you have a couple of free hours.

We are going to begin publishing member's anniversary dates in the Wise Fox. Dick Mordaunt is going to include them in the Membership Roster. This should help in keeping track of when dues are expected.

During the 3rd quarter, a program entitled T.A.G. which stands for 'Training + Activation = Growth' will be held. Aside from chapter incentives, there are also individual incentives. Be sure to read the information published in this month's Wise Fox and get involved.

Wishing you a safe and happy holiday season and a Happy New Year!

Yours in Jaycees,

Jaycees mark 30 years of caring

On Friday night, he responded to the honor by telling the assembled Jaycees, "I'm just as proud of you folks."

Both Rodman and Grey also were presented with original Homer White paintings.

Earlier, the crowd was welcomed by current Jaycee president Fred Badger, who said the club's 30th anniversary provided an opportunity to assess its accomplishments and failures.

"The successes and failures of the past 30 years give us a fertile training ground for the next 30," Badger said.

Surprisingly, "service" was the theme of the evening, and state Jaycee president Faith Cerie applauded the local chapter for its efforts on behalf of the community.

"The Foxboro Jaycees have continuously added members year after year," Cerie said. "They have maintained that community spirit" so vital to the organization.

Jack Authelet, speaking from the perspective of a former newspaper editor and also on behalf of the Foxboro Discretionary Fund, called the Jaycees a "continual supportive presence" for the community.

"Having seen the various projects over the years I cannot help being impressed with the energy and the imagination," he said. "If making a difference is what it's all about then you people have truly arrived."

Authelet was later presented with a $500 donation to the Foxboro Discretionary Fund.

"This organization still believes in local community support for those who need it most," Heehan said in handing over the check.

In a separate presentation, Meehan presented historical commission member Richard Legee a copy of the Foxboro's Jaycee charter, to be displayed at Memorial Hall.

Selectman James Evans, who along with colleague Donald Schmidt is a member of the local chapter, presented a citation from the Board of Selectmen. Evans used the opportunity to poke a little inter-fraternal fun at Selectman Michael Coppola, a long-time member of the Foxboro Lions Club.

"As you may know, two of the three members of the Board of Selectmen are Jaycees; Mr. Coppola wishes he was," Evans said. "With a little prodding I think we could make him an associate member. Of course he'd have to pay dues for the past 25 years."

Other club members singled out for recognition during the 30th anniversary gala included the local chapter's five "life" members: William Norwood, Vincent Gallivan, Paul Kelly, Robert Cole and Paul Howard.

30 years of caring

Foxboro Jaycees mark third decade

Acknowledging their behind-the-scenes roles as civic benefactors, Foxboro Jaycees last Friday honored Gerry Rodman and Raschel Grey during the organization's 30th anniversary celebration at Lakeview Pavilion.

With more than 160 in attendance, including 19 of the club's 29 past presidents, Rodman and Grey received the club's "community service award" for their long-standing commitment to the community.

Master of ceremonies William Meehan termed Grey, owner of Raschel's children's clothing store, "an extremely successful business person — as you well know if you've ever tried to drive down Route 140 a week before school starts."

Meehan outlined Grey's contributions to various Jaycee projects, and in particular her efforts on behalf of the Foxboro Discretionary Fund.

"There's a lot of families in the town who are a little bit happier because of Raschel Grey," Meehan said.

Rodman, a former town official long affiliated with the Discretionary Fund and numerous other charitable causes, was characterized as "a successful businessman and a successful family man."

Foxboro, MA 02035

Dear Foxboro JC's, one and all;

I wish to express my congratulations to you for the manner in which you conducted your 30th Anniversary Banquet.

Your attention to every detail was extremely professional and in excellent taste. It was obvious to all present that many hours and considerable thought was given to ensure a successful and entertaining evening.

Personally, I want to thank you for considering me an asset to the community, and for recognizing me with kind words and a gift I will cherish. I cherish what it is, whom it was painted by, and by the organization and individuals that represent the organization.

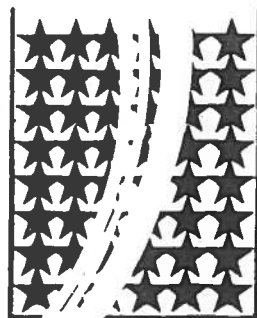

As you know, public speaking is no longer my forte, however, if it were I would have said it loud and clear that evening.

Any community is fortunate to have a JC organization that serves it. Foxboro, however, is blessed as well as fortunate to have had the Foxboro JC's, male and female alike to thank for their countless contributions to the citizens of Foxboro. You have made the town proud of you and you should take a bow.

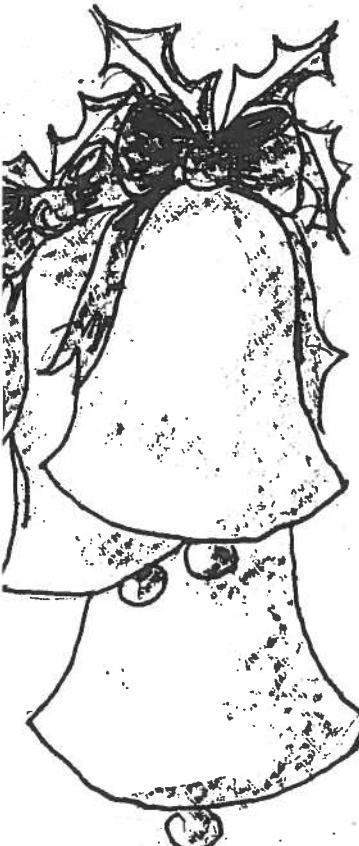

God bless all of you.

Sincerely,

MASS JAYCEES TAG PROGRAM

1 WHAT IS THE TAG PROGRAM?

TRAINING - ACTIVATION - GROWTH!

The TAG program is designed to emphasize the balance of Training, Activation and Growth, together as a group as with the Jaycee Concept; and striving for that balance will guarantee the development of each chapter member through service to their community.

Ask yourself the following questions:

1. I joined Jaycees for leadership training, community involvement and/or the social aspect, but nothing happened; how can I be responsible for my involvement and are there any chapter tools available to encourage involvement?
2. Do most of the members in my chapter understand Jaycees, its philosophies, its programs and what opportunities are available?
3. Our chapter management structure is never fully in place, do officers chairing projects have any effect on that?
4. Am I totally satisfied with the direction that my personal, career and/or family life is headed?
5. Do I want to seek further success?
6. Am I totally satisfied with the direction that my community is taking in areas of youth, elderly, economic development and drug and alcohol prevention? If not, what part do I want to play in helping to address these complicated challenges?
7. How is our chapter perceived in the community?
8. It seems to me that the chapter is floundering at times, what are we doing next anyway?
9. How can I meet and work with new acquaintances and enlarge my social contacts?
10. Why is it so hard to get new members to join? I joined.
11. What needs do I want to have met through my involvement with the Jaycees?
12. There are 35 members on the chapter roster, why do only the same 6 show up?
13. I'm in a 'small' chapter which always runs 'small', 'safe' projects; I want bigger and more exciting projects - how do we make that transition?
14. How do I make a difference or an impact?
15. I have been a Jaycee for a number of years and have never really been involved with either the Management or the Individual Development programs, how do I start?

December 1991

Where has the time gone??? Haunted House was a terrific success this year; there was a lot of good times shared by everyone, especially at the "break-up" party. Our 30th Anniversary gala certainly was enjoyed by everyone and made me feel proud to be a Jaycee and able to be a part of the celebration.

It's great to see member participation in the projects that are approaching in the next month. Progressive Dinner, Christmas Tree Sales, Santa on the Common, Santa Phone and the Nativity Scene. New Members... these are fun and easy projects to get involved with and will not take so much time that you cannot do your planning and preparation for the holiday season.

I would like to welcome several new members that have recently joined in the last 2 months...Lori Eagleston, Lynn Poirier, Jean Phelps and Lori McGrath. I know we will have your support while you have fun. WELCOME!!!

Orientation night was held on Wednesday the 20. We received "one" new member (Lori McGrath)! I want to thank Fred Badger, Dennis Brennan and Bob Webster for their help. Good job! We also have several people who are interested in learning more about the Jaycees who plan on attending the GM meeting in December. These new recruits are from the Membership Booth that was held at the Haunted House. I think they already know that we are bunch of crazy, fun, sincere and love-our-community people.

I am enjoying being VP of Membership and have become more aware of a specific need that would help new, regular and associate members. A handbook...not a handout but a book... with a cover... and not too big. A "Membership Book" that we can create that is not going to cost a fortune and can be updated easily without having to reprint the whole book.

I want this "Membership Book" designed so new members, regular members and last but not least associate members will refer to it and use it. I know we have a handout that contains quite a bit of information but I would like to include that information plus more. Rather than having several different slips of paper that we keep juggling around, let's get it into a book. We have plenty of talented people with expertise in many areas that I am sure we should be able to do a professional job at a low cost.

I want the handbook to include (and I'm sure there is more). . . .

- job description of the President, VPs, Chairpersons, Treasurer and Secretary
- description of board meetings
- description of GM meetings
- projects we are presently doing
- projects we have done in past years
- how to propose a project
- how to chair a project
- how to write a CPG
- what the Jaycee of the month award is
- what the project of the month award is
- what the Frog of the month award is
- membership dues
- why membership is important
- by laws
- membership directory listing services/specialties rendered (for Jaycees only)
- Jaycess glossary of terms
- history of the Foxboro Jaycees

In order to be accurate and complete with this book, I would like to have people who are willing to give me information or suggestions and people who would like to help proofread and/or edit. If you are interested at all just call me with your ideas or let me know what you would like to do. My objectives are to keep this simple enough to enable people to use it quickly and effectively and keep the overhead down.

Our GM Meetings have been exciting, fun and an event that is looked forward to each month thanks again Sandy for doing such a fine job. Don't Stop!!!

This is super seeing the members attending the GM Meetings and watching our membership steadily increase. Just check out the chart below. Keep up the good work members!

I wonder who's going to win the gift certificate and plaque in May??? Heeee! Hee! Hee! Hee! (Is that a Witchy laugh? You bet it is!... Oops! I'm sorry, the Devil made me do it...)

Yankee Division Corps

To: Jaycee Chapter Presidents
From: Paul LaFleur
Re: Camp Lincoln Hill

If you've got the time, we've got the money!!

No, this isn't Donald Trump speaking, but the Yankee Corps does have a few bucks which we want to use to encourage Jaycee chapters to support Lincoln Hill Camp-. To this end, we are making the following offer:

1.) If your chapter is not currently sponsoring a cabin at Lincoln Hill but would like to, the Yankee Corps would like to help out by providing you with the materials to do the job while your chapter provides the people to work.

2.) To qualify for this offer, contact one of the two names listed below and tell us what you plan to do, what materials will be needed and what it will cost. The Corps will consider all requests and, depending on the number and cost of the requests, determine which chapters will receive a grant.

Note: To find out which cabins need sponsors and the amount of work required, contact a member of the Massachusetts Jaycees Charitable Trust.

3.) When the time comes for you to do the work, probably this spring, call us and we will make arrangements to get you the materials.

That's It! It's as easy as 1-2-3!! Get your chapter involved in a most deserving project: supporting the special children who attend Lincoln Hill while building the pride and accomplishments of your members. The Corps wants to help. Call us:

Fellow Jaycees,

The other day I heard of Craig Shergold, a seven year old boy who is suffering with terminal cancer. It is one of his wishes to be included in the Guinness Book of World Records with the largest number of business cards ever collected by one person.

If you have a business card and a Jaycee business card I think it would be nice to help him out and make his wish come true.

CD REPORT
December. 1991

Project Headfirst-Geri Ayres has the 350 booklets in her hands to run this project. Geri will be talking to the schools and arranging to present the program to all of the 3rd graders during the week of Dec. 9th.

UNICEF-Boon Ooi just dropped off another $40.00 from his collection boxes. This project will run until Christmas and Boon will give us an update at the GM.

CAMP LINCOLN HILL-Tony DiBona is just starting to see the light at the end of the tunnel on this project. Tony has put in an incredible number of hours this past month trying to get ready for Christmas tree sales. Although the building is not quite complete, anyone who saw it last year will be very impressed with the improvement.

LINCOLN HILL CLEAN UP-During the course of the rehab, a tremendous pile of junk has grown around the building. We will be looking into getting a dump waiver for the last Saturday in December. We need manpower with trucks for 1 - 2 hours on Dec. 28th. Please give me a call or see me at the GM if you can help.

SANTA PHONE-George Devlin is chairing this year. The dates are Monday, Dec. 16th and Wednesday, Dec. 18th from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. Any member who like to arrange to have Santa give a call to their little ones should call George and pick your date early.

NATIVITY SCENE-Mark Emery and his able crew set up the Nativity Scene at the Common Bandstand on Nov. 30th. Breakdown will be taking place the Saturday after New Year's. Mark will be needing a crew on that day also!

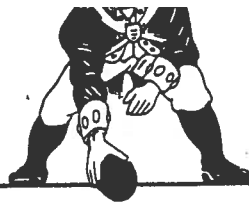

SANTA ON THE COMMON-Martha O'Neill started this project early only to discover that our Santa suit cannot be found!! Our resident seamstress, Karen Apgar, has volunteered to start working on a new suit for the chapter. If she can't get it done in time, we have a commitment from the Lewis School to lend us one(which Karen also made). Santa will be on hand on the common from 10:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 14th. Kids can sit on Santa's lap, and parents are encouraged to bring along gifts, marked "boy" or "girl", for Martha to pass along to the Discretionary Fund.

FIRE DEPT. DONATION-As you read this, Sue Kennedy will have already presented a $500.00 check to the Foxboro Fire Dept. to help with the purchase of a pair of anti-shock trousers.

ANNON COURT MOVE-On Nov. 23rd the JC moving company of Webster, Webster, Emery and Brady moved an elderly woman's belongings from one apartment in Carl Annon Court to another. Based on my telephone conversation with the lady, I was expecting "a few" pieces of furniture. Upon arrival, we found the few pieces along with about 60 trash bags full of other assorted belongings. The woman was very appreciative of our help and will be sending a thank you note to the P.O. box. I had never been involved with one of those moves before and was expecting to basically "ruin" my Saturday afternoon with this project. When we were all done I realized that this "person to person" helping of someone who truly has no where else to turn was as personally fulfilling as any project I've worked on for the Jaycees. NOW, WHO WANTS TO DO THE NEXT ONE???

CDVP MESSAGE-Our Community Development agenda is always very full this time of year, as well it should be! I'd like to thank all of the newer members who have stepped up to chair so many of our recent projects. Everyone in the CD area has been doing great work!! To the other new members: DON'T BE SHY!! You never have to work a project alone. There is always someone to give you a helping hand when you need it (and sometimes when you don't!!) And, if you do nothing else this season---Do not miss the Progressive Dinner!! It is the Christmas party to end all Christmas parties!! But, if I don't see you there, please have a happy and healthy holiday season.

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS FOOTBALL CLUB

GUEST SPEAKER - DECEMBER GM - 12/11/91 at 7:30 pm

SAM JANKOVICH
Chief Executive Officer

On December 20, 1990, Patriots' Owner and Chairman Victor K. Kiam named Sam Jankovich as his Chief Executive Officer and the organization embarked on a new path for the 1991 season and beyond. Jankovich, the University of Miami's Athletic Director from 1982-89, oversees the overall operation of the organization.

"Our long-term goal for this franchise is for it to be one of the real sources of pride for the New England states," says Jankovich. "Secondly, we want the Patriots to represent the NFL in a first-class fashion, and we want to have a consistent and winning program. We have a golden opportunity with the Patriots right now. I believe the NFL really brings about a competitive balance, probably more than any other professional sport. As long as we work together, we will turn this franchise around, and it will be competitive. I sincerely believe that you will see this football team play very hard this year, and it will be a very enthusiastic team, and it will have the personality of Dick MacPherson."

During his eight years at the University of Miami, the 56-year-old Jankovich was in charge of a program which won seven national championships: football (1983, 1987 and 1989), baseball (1985), men's tennis (singles in 1987), women's golf (1984) and women's tennis (doubles in 1986).

In October of 1990, Jankovich was very instrumental in Miami's entrance into the Big East Conference, effective in the fall of 1991.

Under Jankovich's leadership, the University of Miami added several new athletic buildings, including the Knight Sports Complex which houses the Hurricane men's and women's basketball programs.

In subsidizing the growth and expansion of facilities and nationally elite programs, Jankovich broke new ground in the challenging area of funding a major college program within a private institution. In cultivating the support of the South Florida community, Jankovich oversaw the development of the Hurricane Club into a financial foundation that increased its annual gift total from $750,000 in 1982 to more than $3 million in 1989-90.

Additional revenues were generated through Hurricane appearances on national television. From 1986-90, Miami football, basketball and baseball teams made 74 network television appearances. During the 1989 and 1990 seasons, the football team played 13 of its 24 games on national television. Jankovich also negotiated radio and television contracts for UM coaches and staff.

His success earned Jankovich a great deal of national respect and recognition. He was President of the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors, First Vice-President of the National Association of College Directors of Athletics and was on the Executive Board of the College Football Association (CFA).

Prior to going to Miami, Jankovich served as athletic director at Washington State University. While competing in the PAC-10 Conference, his teams participated in their first bowl game in 50 years (1981 Holiday Bowl), made two NCAA basketball tournament appearances and captured a conference title in track.

Jankovich, a native of Butte, Montana, and the former Patty Mullins have three children: Michael, Sue Ellen and Sam Jr. He also has eight grandchildren.
